

Freedom is on course.

The U.S. Navy and the Lockheed Martin LCS team are leading the way. We're building the future USS FREEDOM, the first member of the LCS fleet. With a mature design, proven processes, and a record of success, our team is on course to deliver a combatant that will revolutionize the way the Navy operates. Operational flexibility, warfighting capabilities, and the speed and maneuverability for littoral dominance – unlike any other warship. The Lockheed Martin LCS team. Ready today to serve tomorrow's fleet.
